I offer my loved bike for sale I imported the bike from Hungary, my dad is the second owner of the bike we bought it in 2012 from the first owner and since then it only did run during summertimes when I was visiting my parents. It is standing in the garage for over two years. Before that, it was regularly maintained. I was planning to change the fairings which got damaged during transportation. the fairings cost less than 400 euro to replace with OEM parts. it does not have Dutch registration yet since I was planning to restore it before I get that, but the plan has.
