Garmin GPS 126 with Internal Antenna

Manufacturer Description

With its large, high-contrast, 4.25" LCD display and powerful 12 parallel channel receiver, the GPS 126 is the ideal choice for the mariner who wants more than a handheld-without the cost, complexity, and large footprint found in typical fixed-mount units. The built-in antenna makes the GPS 126 perfect for the mariner who navigates from an open console.

The GPS 126 also features a customized moving map display with user-selectable waypoint symbols and comments, and dedicated zoom keys to help to make operation straight forward and intuitive. Userselectable highway or compass navigation pages provide graphic steering guidance to your destination, eliminating the guesswork when you're trying to find your favorite hotspot.
