It's hard to put a price on this plant because it's more than a plant. You will not find another like it in the Netherlands. She is what started my obsession with platycteriums and epiphytes, which grew to creating @mrsmallsplants which I will continue to grow after I leave holland next month. I've nurtured and sculpted and re-mounted this Platycerium Superbum for 5 years since she was a tiny pup. I only sell her because I'm moving and I can't take her on the plane. I've never seen a superbum this large and healthy in my life; with each day she changes shape and grows in different ways.

- Technical Details:
- 5-year-old Platycerium Superbum aka staghoorn fern or hertshoorn in Dutch
 - Mounted by hand on a large piece of cork wood with spagnum moss and a metal hanger
 - 100% Healthy and thriving
 - She will grow tremendously this summer if fertilized and cared for properly as she is in the prime growing period of her life
 - Requires bright, indirect light (and good company/music/positive energy)
 - Dimensions: 75cm height; 75cm width; 49cm depth

I cared for her every day for 5+ years, so I'm hoping to sell to an equally passionate admirer of epiphytes / staghorns / platycteriums, or someone enthusiastic about these plants.

- zal deze zomer enorm groeien, aangezien ze zich in haar belangrijkste groeiperiode van haar leven bevindt

- Afmetingen: hoogte 75cm; 75cm breedte; 49cm diepte

Ik heb meer dan 5 jaar elke dag voor haar gezorgd, dus ik hoop het te verkopen aan een even gepassioneerde bewonderaar van epifyten / staghoorns / platyceriums, of iemand die enthousiast is over deze planten.
