 Join our team
 We are looking for your next career step by providing you with the opportunity to work in a vibrant and inspiring environment – as a Food and Beverage Manager at the Park Plaza Victoria Amsterdam, one of the oldest modern hotels at the very heart of Amsterdam. A great diversity of outlets and leading our destination restaurant Carsten, the perfect next step in your career.
 Working at Park Plaza
 Park Plaza stands out from the crowd. From design to dining, we create hotels that are true to their surroundings. The same goes for our people. We encourage our team members to be themselves.

Combining professionalism with personality, we strive to create an authentic connection with each and every guest. If that is something you can help us maintain, this could be the perfect place for your leadership talents.

Our guests expect exceptional food and drink. From working with suppliers and sourcing the best products, to engaging with chefs in our hotels, as Food & Beverage Manager you will ensure that we always exceed expectations.

Your responsibilities

You will head the Hotel's Food & Beverage department, including all outlets and our destination restaurant Carstens, ensuring the team and whole operation are focused on delivering truly memorable experiences.

We want you to drive the commercial performance of F&B by growing sales, promoting events and developing new concepts/menus – while effectively managing costs, stocks and suppliers.

You will be a passionate advocate of our F&B offering, and a visible, hands-on leader who promotes an empowering culture within your team.

As a Department Head, you will also play a direct role in the overall management of the Hotel.

Job Requirements

What we are looking for

You inspire others: you lead by example, enthusing your team by sharing your passion for brilliant food & drink and outstanding customer service.

You are innovative: you bring fresh thinking to F&B operations from menu ideas and event concepts to behind-the-scenes systems.

You are a connector: you develop productive relationships with colleagues within F&B and across other departments, looking for ways to enhance the guest experience and business performance.

You are empowering: you develop the potential in your direct reports and foster a culture where people are encouraged to take accountability and learn and grow through experience.

You deliver: you are self-motivated and driven to set high standards for yourself and your bar, restaurant and events operation. You are tenacious in achieving the goals you set.

You share our values: Trust, Respect, Teamwork, Enthusiasm, Commitment, Care

You are a true expert in wines, as sommelier or with a SWEN I/II certification

You build strong confidence in fine dining & banqueting, as (assistant) F&B Manager in an upscale hotel for at least 2 years

Why join us?

No matter what level you are in our organisation, we will encourage your creativity. If you have an idea about how we can improve things, we want to hear it. And if it is a bright idea, we will make it happen. In the fast-moving and competitive world of hospitality, this is how we have stayed ahead.

We are ready to invest in you and your future. We offer a competitive rewards package, award-winning training, a supportive team environment and real opportunities to learn, grow and develop a rewarding career.
