This smartphone recently dropped. This moment caused a black line on the display. There seems to be no further damage behind the display. The device still works properly except for the display and a there's also a small mark on the left side at the back part.

I have recently bought a new phone, that is why this Samsung S21 Ultra 512GB is for sale now. In my opinion screen reparation is required that is why I have decreased the price and included a free 20w charger + cable (USB-C).
