I am selling a museum piece of Asics miners for collectors. one of the early compact nice looking miners out there in the 2012-2013 eras. many are lost throughout the years and only a few remain.

The miner is no longer profitable for use so I just kept it for display.

the Asic miner doesn't include cables/power supply, but it 100% still works the last time I checked years ago. if you're a die-hard fan of crypto and looking for something to show off with a lot of history. this is the right miner for!
