The Rothewald Professional imperial tool set is very impressive. The fine-toothed ratchets with their ergonomic shape and grippy rubber-covered handles feel perfect in your hand.

The combination wrenches, hexagon keys (long side with ball heads) and sockets made from high-quality chrome vanadium steel reinforce this tool kit's high standard of quality with their satin-finished surfaces. Another remarkable feature is that the universal joints with spring washers within the connections always have a tight feel and make for controlled fastening and release.

All in all, this ample set has been intelligently put together in a compact, impact-resistant plastic case, with the imperial bits for Torx (T), Phillips and hex socket bolts kept together in separate bit holders so that nothing gets lost. All the hex sockets have a protective flank-drive, with which even damaged bolts can still be safely removed.

This set contains all you need to work on American and British motorcycles and cars. All the tools are high-quality, durable chrome vanadium and designed to meet rigorous demands!
