What we expect of you

You understand that there is no time to lose when processing the products. The truck has to leave on time, so everything has to be made ready for shipping. As an order picker, you collect the order through a handheld radio and your area of the inventory of the store. You check it off and also make the goods ready for shipping. Then you will be busy with the loading and unloading of trucks.

It is a fast-paced and sometimes a challenging job. All the orders that are brought to the shipper
