Do you have an affinity with technology? Are you someone who is not afraid to roll up your sleeves and take care of all kinds of tasks, then this position is for you! As a production employee you are responsible for the proper implementation of your contribution in the entire production process.

Bedrijfsomschrijving

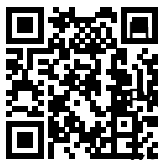

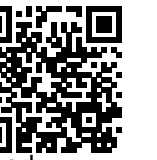

Our client is a modern and medium-sized company that designs, develops, sells, produces, and installs interior door systems. The production process is characterized by a high degree of automation. At various branches, the following are produced: door sets, style/lacquer doors, HPL doors, steel frames, wooden window frames, sliding door systems, hinges.

Real professionals who take pride in their work: and so are your future colleagues. We are happy to support this craft. For example, with a large and modern machine park. We give you space to show what you can do, and at the same time you can count on clear guidelines and training opportunities. We offer this to all of our 450 employees. Or maybe you too soon?

Functieomschrijving

We are looking for candidates for production work, who can work in a group, but also individually, people who can work in an automated factory, speak English at the B1 / B2 level, and have a driving license and this will belong to your tasks
