Pandigital, known for their digital photo frames and scanners, has decided to jump into the ereader fray with the Pandigital Novel, a 7-inch multipurpose ereader with an LCD touchscreen, Wi-Fi, and an Android operating system.

The Pandigital Novel shares the same internal hardware as the Cruz Reader and the PocketBook IQ. All are designed to be ereaders and multimedia devices capable of browsing the web, playing music, sending email, and displaying videos and images on their 800 x 600 resolution screens.

Also, the Pandigital Novels you can install 3rd-party Android apps, including the Kobo, Aldiko, and Amazon Kindle ereading apps, among many others.
