I don't answer the questions about the lowest price. If you're interested, make an offer.

I am selling a MacBook Pro with some major issues at a reduced price. I've used it since the beginning of 2019 for 2,5 years, primarily for 3D modeling and Adobe Suite. I haven't used it for the past 1.5 years since I switched to Windows. There are two major problems that make it hardly possible to use:

- Broken screen (see photo)
- Malfunctioning motherboard - I was told at a service desk that it should be replaced. The MacBook crashes during high computational performance tasks, such as rendering a game or using 3D modeling software. Perhaps there are people who know how to fix these issues or recycle the hardware. I don't want to invest since I'm back to pure non-bootcamp Windows. Here are the specs:
