Functieomschrijving

You will be working as a production employee in an entertaining company!

It will be a hard-on job, but besides that is everyone packing, sorting or checking the quality of the fresh food with a smile. While you are packing the bell peppers is your colleague preparing the quantity for you so you will not stay empty handed (or vice versa).

The next day you could be packing cucumbers in boxes while your colleague is making some jokes on the job, although you should be able to manage the pace of the machines and your colleagues of course but you will see this will only take a matter of time for you.
