English further below.

AOC AGON AG273QCG 27" WQHD G-Sync gaming monitor with RGB lights in the back.

In perfect condition, comes with its original box, power cable, HDMI and display port cables.

It only has one small issue:

1 of the 4 bolts used for mounting it via a VESA plate is broken (highlighted in blue in the photos). It still mounts perfectly safe and stable on any monitor arm, does not affect it. If you don't mount it on a monitor arm, then it really doesn't matter. I have been using it on a monitor arm and it's rock solid. Otherwise, it's in superb condition.

This only matter if you use it on a separate monitor arm and not on the desktop stand. If you use it on its desktop stand, this has zero effect on it and it's perfect.

Details and specifications:

The AOC AGON AG273QCG is a 27-inch WQHD gaming monitor for more experienced gamers. Thanks to the high refresh rate of 165Hz and the 1ms response time, you can play games like Battlefield V or CS:GO without any lags. Do you have an NVIDIA video card? G-SYNC makes it work even better by reducing tearing and stuttering. The design of the AG273QCG is created by gamers. The black monitor has red accents, colored LED lighting on its back, and virtually invisible bezels. Because the screen is slightly curved, the distance between your face and the monitor is the same for each part of the screen. As a result, you can become fully immersed in your games.
