This is my Peugeot 406 coupe, with a 3L V6 from 2003.

The car makes around 200 (207) HP and weighs around 1500kg, so its not too fast but definitely not slow.

The exterior has a lovely sleek design due to it being made with Pirinfarina, and i've paired it with some black rims.

Car has 187xxx kms, has a check engine light due to the Oxygen sensors, but runs perfect.

Otherwise there has always been proper maintenance on this car, before i bought it the previous owner had alot of work done to it including the Timing belt at 180xxx, amongst other things such as Brake pads, oil filters, clutch cable, shifter cables

I think the pricing is fair since most V6 coupes go for around 4-5k, butt this one is lower KMS than most, althoughit does have exterior damage.

Please do send a message if you're.
