"The new MacBook is the lightest and thinnest MacBook ever. Only 13.1 mm thin and 920 grams of light. What immediately attracts attention is the 12-inch Retina screen. Thanks to 3 million pixels, each letter is sharply reproduced. The MacBook contains one USB-C connection. This is symmetrical, so putting the cable upside down is now a thing of the past. Thanks to the Intel Core i5 processor, the MacBook is so economical that the battery lasts a whole working day. The Force Touch trackpad with tactile feedback offers additional possibilities because the pressure sensors feel how hard it is being pushed. In addition, the MacBook is of course equipped with the latest wireless technologies such as Bluetooth 4.2 and 802.11ac wifi."
