Outreach & Communications Coordinator

Sound and Vision is the leading institute for media in the Netherlands and one of the largest audio-visual archives in the world. It is an inspiring, creative and welcoming meeting place for professionals and others interested in the industry; online, in our physical museum and sometimes on location.

Activities

We are looking for a strong communicator to help streamline our outreach and communications activities in European collaborative research projects. The Outreach & Communications Coordinator will be responsible for general communications support and content creation within the Netherlands Institute for Sound and Vision's target group 'Heritage Professionals and Researchers'. Our portfolio includes two initiatives: the EUscreen Network (as part of Europeana DSI-4) and the ReTV project.

Key Responsibilities

- Create and deliver stakeholder engagement activities (e.g. workshops, focus groups)
- Update/maintain multiple websites with Wordpress CRM
- Manage email/subscriber lists
- Create and manage editorial calendars

Design and distribute communications (such as event invitations, program announcements, content) to stakeholders and subscriber lists, and target audiences
 Develop and implement a cohesive strategy for social media and other platforms, and route content to the appropriate communication channels
 Create and manage editorial calendars
 Develop presentations for external audiences

Coordinate design and/or editorial projects, such as funding and project reports, with in-house production staff
 Report on the success of communications tactics using analytics
 Attend regular meetings of both initiatives

Knowledge and Experience required
